Satya Bharti Schools lift 46 awards

Bharti Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Bharti Enterprises, announced that the community-led development campaigns of students from as many as 46 different Satya Bharti Schools, have won the 'Design for Change' awards, an international recognition platform for community initiatives. Design for Change is a global platform designed to give children an opportunity to express their own ideas for a better world and put them into action. This year, over 705 stories were received from as many as 540 schools from across 19 states in the country. Over 162 Satya Bharti Schools from rural India submitted 172 stories of change. Out of these, two were selected under top 20, one was chosen under jury's pick category, 19 under honourable mention category (top 72), and 24 under special acknowledgement section, reaching to a total of 46 awards. — TNS
